Weather cold and lots of snow the past week.

The Annapolis Hotel came very near being destroyed by fire last Saturday evening. About 7 o'clock flames were discovered in the third story and the fire had made such headway that hard Work was required to extinguish it. The timely arrival of Chas E. Bolch, with the fire extinguisher, probably saved the building from total destruction. The damage to hotel, store and merchandise was $1,000. The fire was probably occasioned by a defective flue.
